FROM THE PASTOR

Laudetur Jesus Christus! Gelobt sei Jesus Christus!

Sia lodato Gesù Cristo! Praised be Jesus Christ!

A few people have inquired as to what they should call Bro. Brent & Bro. Henry now that they are ordained deacons. You may continue to call them what you have been calling, Bro. Brent & Bro. Henry. They will not become 'Father' until after their ordination to the priesthood next year. I have been meaning to mention this for some weeks now and have finally remembered!

Someone had mentioned to me recently that they found Fr. Endres recent article in the Catholic Telegraph helpful to understand better the place of the Roman Canon, the 1st Eucharistic Prayer in the life of the Church. I present most of that article here for your edification this week. Have a blessed week!

Fr. Paul Beach

"The Eucharistic Prayer with the lengthy list of saints is known as the First Eucharistic Prayer. Also called the Roman Canon because of its normative use in the Mass over the centuries, the prayer is perhaps the oldest continuously used Eucharistic Prayer in the Roman Church's liturgy. It dates to at least the Fourth Century, though it likely existed even earlier.

According to tradition, the essential elements of a Eucharistic prayer date to the apostles, but the prayers in use by the Church today developed over time. The First Eucharistic Prayer is among the earliest and is quoted substantially by St. Ambrose in his text on the sacraments, De Sacramentis, written in the Fourth Century. This prayer continued to evolve over time, but there were no significant changes made after the time of Pope Gregory the Great in the early Seventh Century. The prayer's text spread to England by the Seventh Century, to France by the Eighth Century and to Spain by the Eleventh Century.

The First Eucharistic Prayer became the only Eucharistic prayer of the Latin Church for centuries, until the liturgical reforms of the Second Vatican Council.

Each of the Eucharistic prayers asks for the intercession of the saints (at least Mary and Joseph by name), but the First Eucharistic Prayer is the only one to invoke a large number of saints. Twice during the prayer, a litany of saints is invoked. In the first litany, 26 saints are named, including each of the 12 apostles and several early popes. In the second litany, 15 saints are invoked: John the Baptist plus seven male and seven female saints, mostly martyrs of the early Church.

Many of the saints named are popes or bishops connected to Rome or the wider Roman Empire. However, the list is more diverse. Chrysogonus was likely a layman and catechist. Cosmas and Damian, two Arabian-born physicians, were blood brothers (maybe even twins). The list includes martyrs such as Perpetua and Felicity from North Africa. Perpetua was a married noblewoman, and Felicity was her slave (then pregnant).

We may ask why the saints are mentioned at all. The Eucharistic Prayers are directed to God the Father through Jesus Christ in the Holy Spirit. When the saints are called upon in the Eucharistic Prayer, we pray to God "in communion" with them. In the introduction to the second litany of saints, we ask for "some share and fellowship" with the apostles and martyrs. Their inclusion in the Eucharistic Prayer then reminds us of the teaching on the communion of saints: that whenever we pray, earth unites with heaven. The prayer of the Mass unites the divine, the saints and us in the one offering of Christ.

The inclusion of the saints in the First Eucharistic Prayer reminds us of our hope for fellowship with them in life eternal. The litany of saints, part of the development of the First Eucharistic Prayer through the Fourth Century, indicates that saintly intercession and the belief in the communion of saints was part of the earliest Christians' belief and practice." - Fr. David Endres / Catholic Telegraph

Summer Slowdown

Please note that we are now in our parish slowdown for the summer. Our next Solemn Mass will be in September and we hope to restart Catechism at that time as well. Thank you to everyone who helped with Catechism, all our Masses, events, fundraisers, etc. since this past Fall. Without everyone's help, we couldn't make this happen!

Lighting the candles in Church

Please take caution when lighting the candles in church. In some instances, the taper stick may break off in the candle while lighting. If this happens, please blowout the candle and remove the wooden stick and then relight the candle. If the stick is left in the candle it could present a fire hazard as the plastic holder may catch fire.
